New Ad: Kirsten Engel Drops First Ad of the General Election

The ad comes a week after the primary and kicks off the general election campaign

TUCSON, AZ — Democratic Candidate for Arizona’s 6th Congressional District, Kirsten Engel, released her campaign’s first ad of the cycle. The 30 second spot highlights Engel’s biography as an educator and track record of advocating for public schools, taking on corporate price-gouging, and working to secure the border. In her introductory ad, Engel emphasizes her bipartisan bonafides and commitment to protecting Social Security and lowering prescription drug costs.

“I am so grateful for the widespread support we have received, and we’re continuing to get our message out to the voters here in southern Arizona,” said Kirsten Engel.

“Voters are sick and tired of the dysfunction in Congress, and they deserve better than Juan Ciscomani putting politics over Arizonans. I look forward to being a leader in Congress for all my constituents, just as I was when I served in the Arizona Legislature.”

This ad kicks off the general election campaign and will be the first in a series of ads from Engel. The campaign has reserved over $3.5 million in broadcast and digital communications between now and Election Day.

Engel faces Ciscomani in a rematch from 2022, where she lost by approximately 5,000 votes despite being outspent 6 to 1. She is committed to putting Arizona families over Washington special interests – that's why she has rejected corporate PAC contributions to her campaign, and is proud to have received more than 31,000 individual donations this campaign cycle. She has also secured key endorsements locally and nationally, including from Senator Mark Kelly, End Citizens United, Planned Parenthood, and AFSCME.
