Pima County Sheriff Chris Nanos Endorses Kirsten Engel
Border Sheriff Praises Engel's Approach to Security

TUCSON, AZ – Sheriff Chris Nanos has endorsed Kirsten Engel for Congress in Arizona's Sixth Congressional District. Pima is the largest county in the district and has the largest portion of the border with Mexico of any Arizona county.

Nanos supports Engel's desire to find bipartisan solutions to the issues we are struggling with on the border, from drug-trafficking to fixing our broken immigration system. He has been disappointed by her opponent's partisan approach to law enforcement along the border.

"Fentanyl is the single deadliest drug threat in our nation. It's killing our youth and it's being transported across our borders. Kirsten Engel's opponent voted to CUT funding for border security and instead engage in partisan politics. I trust Kirsten to take a pragmatic and compassionate stance in dealing with border issues."

In addition to overseeing the largest stretch of border in the state, Nanos serves on the Arizona High Intensity Drug Trafficking Area, Southwest Border Sheriff's Coalition, Law Enforcement Immigration Task Force, and the Alliance to Combat Transnational Threats.

"I support a candidate who will restore our national integrity, security, and world standing and reform our longtime broken and failed immigration system. Kirsten Engel gets it and I am proud to support her."
